

References

1. National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE). Evidence standards framework for digital health technologies. 2021. nice.org.uk/corporate/ecd7/chapter/section-a-evidence-effectiveness-standards.
2. Autism Speaks. Autism diagnosis criteria: DSM-5. 2021. <https://www.autismspeaks.org/autismdiagnosis-criteria-dsm-5>.
3. Abbas H, Garberson F, Liu-Mayo S, Glover E, Wall DP. Multi-modular AI approach to streamline autism diagnosis in young children. Sci Rep. 2020;10(1):5014. doi:10.1038/s41598-020-61213-w
4. Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Autism spectrum disorder (ASD) screening and diagnosis. 2020. <https://www.cdc.gov/ncbddd/autism/hcp-screening.html#DiagnosticTools>.
5. Hayes, Inc. Hayes Evolving Evidence Review. Canvas Dx (Cognoa, Inc.) for Diagnosis of Autism Spectrum Disorder. Landsdale, Pa: Hayes, Inc. 10/07/2021.
6. Kanne SM, Carpenter LA, Warren Z. Screening in toddlers and preschoolers at risk for autism spectrum disorder: Evaluating a novel mobile-health screening tool. Autism Res. 2018;11(7):1038-1049.
7. Law, M. X., Pimentel, M. F., Oldenburg, et. al. Positive predictive value and screening performance of GoCheck Kids in a primary care university clinic. Journal AAPOS. 2020;24(1), 17-e1.
8. Levitt, A. H., Martin, S. J., Arnold, R. W. Performance of glow fixation GoCheck Kids and 2WIN photoscreeners and retinomax to uncover hyperopia. Clinical Ophthalmology 2020; 2237-2244.
9. Martin, S. J., Htoo, H. E., Hser, N., et el. Performance of two photoscreeners enhanced by protective cases. Clinical Ophthalmology. 2020;1427-1435.